Announcements

• Announcing the Australia Anyone? Sweepstakes Winner

More than 17,000 people entered for a chance to win two round-trip tickets on Qantas Airways in celebration of our one-year joint business anniversary with Qantas. Lucky winner Jim Salaiz, Fleet Service Clerk, LAX, was surprised by the Qantas joint business team while working on the dock last Sunday evening. "I think it's great that one of our local folks here in LAX won the sweepstakes because we work so closely with Qantas," said Lakshman Amaranayaka, Senior Manager, Customer Operations, LAX. "I've seen the Qantas A380 aircraft come in and out of LAX and they are pretty spectacular," said Jim. "I'm looking forward to getting on it." Check out the surprise in a video feature on new Jetnet.

- Flight Attendant Language Speaker Openings Now Extended through May 5 for External Applicants

Job postings for several flight attendant language speaker positions, including Japanese, Mandarin, Portuguese, Italian, German and Korean, have been extended and will now remain open for external candidates through May 5. We have already completed our first two flight attendant classes, with a variety of language speakers in each class. Thanks to your referral efforts, our first two classes included our goal number of Korean speakers to support the new DFW-Seoul, South Korea, route which will begin in May. Please continue to encourage any qualified applicants you know to visit aacareers.com to learn more about current openings. We especially need your help identifying Chinese Mandarin and Japanese bilingual speaking applicants to apply. Applicants need to have a right to work in the U.S.

- The Fleet Service Uniform Tour is Headed Your Way

Fleet Service Clerks now have a chance to check out their new uniforms, get fitted and place their order! Twin Hill will be taking the new uniforms on a fit tour kicking off May 1. Visit new Jetnet to learn more.

IAG Orders Airbus A350s for British Airways

International Airlines Group (IAG) unveiled orders for 18 Airbus A350 long-haul jets for its British Airways arm and said it was in further talks with Airbus and Boeing to secure more planes for fellow oneworld carrier Iberia. IAG said it had placed 18 firm orders for the A350-1000, worth $332 million each at list prices, along with 18 options. British Airways is about to receive the first of 12 Airbus A380 superjumbos. But the A350 deal marks its first European purchase in a more valuable section of the market. The first aircraft for IAG will be delivered in 2018.

TSA Postpones Allowing Small Knives Back on Planes

The Transportation Security Administration is postponing letting passengers carry small knives back aboard airline flights. After facing strong opposition to the policy change from flight attendants and its own air marshals, the agency said Monday it was delaying the policy change so that the airline industry, passenger advocates and law-enforcement experts could weigh in on what should be allowed on planes. "This timing will enable TSA to incorporate the feedback about the changes to the Prohibited Items List and continue workforce training," the TSA said in a statement. The Flight Attendants Union Coalition, which represents 90,000 flight attendants and lobbied against the policy change, welcomed the postponement. The group argued that if TSA wants to change the policy, the agency must go through a formal rulemaking process.

Merger Q&A

Q. What is a Plan of Reorganization?

A. A Plan of Reorganization is a document that sets forth the manner in which claims against and equity interests in the Debtors will be treated and discharged, and is the final step in the Chapter 11 emergence process. It is sometimes referred to as the "POR" or the "the Plan." The plan is premised on the completion of the merger of US Airways and AMR per our announced merger agreement.
