» Big Apple to Emerald Isle: Enter the Photo Sweeps for a Chance to Win

To celebrate our recent launch of our new JFK-Dublin service, we want to give you an opportunity to win enough AAdvantage miles for two round-trip Business Class tickets to Dublin – the capital city of the Republic of Ireland. Want to visit Dublin? It's easy – enter our photo sweepstakes for a chance to win. Simply choose the best photo you've taken in either New York City or Dublin, then post it to this photo album on new Jetnet by July 3. If you've never been to either city, that's OK – you can still enter by submitting your best photo resembling either the hustle and bustle of the Big Apple or the greenery of Ireland. Get your cameras ready!

» Tune up with Preventive Care

Airplanes undergo scheduled maintenance to keep them in pristine flying condition. So, why is that we don't think our bodies deserve the same treatment? Routine preventive screenings can help prevent or identify an illness early. People enrolled in the Core, Standard or Value medical option may receive recommended preventive services, like annual physicals, at no cost to them. Visit My.AA.com to see what American's medical benefits cover.

American and Seaborne Airlines Announce Codesharing Agreement

American announced a codesharing agreement with Seaborne Airlines, providing customers with nonstop service to six Caribbean destinations from San Juan, Puerto Rico. The agreement allows American to offer connecting flights from San Juan on Seaborne to: Dominica; Fort-de-France, Martinique; Pointe-a-Pitre, Guadeloupe; Tortola, British Virgin Islands; Vieques, Puerto Rico; and Virgin Gorda, British Virgin Islands. Travelers can book codeshare flights today for travel starting June 27. In addition, members of the American's AAdvantage program will be eligible to earn miles on Seaborne codeshare flights and redeem miles on Seaborne later this year. Seaborne, which is based in St. Croix, U.S. Virgin Islands, has provided inter-island service and flights to Caribbean destinations for 20 years.

More Miami-Dusseldorf Service Coming This Winter

airberlin announced it is increasing the number of flights between MIA and Dusseldorf in the winter. Between Nov. 1 and Apr. 30 of next year, the oneworld carrier will offer five flights a week between MIA and Dusseldorf. The previous winter scheduled had four weekly flights. An additional flight per week has also been added between Ft. Myers and Dusseldorf, while New York JFK gets one more flight per week to Berlin and three more weekly flights to Dusseldorf.

Honeywell/Safran Joint Venture Tests Electric Taxiing

An Airbus A320 accelerating, reversing and pirouetting, its engines silent, may be an unusual sight, but the public demonstration of electric taxiing at the Paris Air Show may persuade aircraft manufacturers to acquiesce to airline demands and install the fuel-saving technology. The concept involves fitting electrically-driven motors to the aircraft's wheels, which will be used in place of the main engines to taxi. The systems, which will take power from the aircraft's auxiliary power unit (APU), are designed to reduce fuel-burn and emissions, lower direct operating costs, reduce maintenance time, extend engine life and provide environmental benefits. The Honeywell-Safran system demonstrated at the show has motors in the wheels of the main landing gear. In development by Electric Green Taxiing System (EGTS), a joint venture formed by the two companies, the system could save up to $200,000 per aircraft per year in fuel costs, says Jim Fusaro, Honeywell product marketing vice president and EGTS business manager. Initial tests to evaluate runway conditions and calculate the necessary loads to move an A320 took place in Montpellier, France.
