JUDGE ACCEPTS AMERICAN BID IN ITS ENTIRETY

FORT WORTH, Texas -- In response to today's decision by U.S. Bankruptcy Court Judge Peter Walsh, American Airlines released the following statement:

We are gratified by Judge Walsh's ruling in favor of our bid to purchase substantially all of the assets of TWA. We firmly believe that the American proposal represents the only viable option for TWA, and that it will deliver significant benefits to TWA's employees, creditors, customers and communities. It is the only plan that provides jobs for virtually all of TWA's employees, keeps TWA's airplanes flying, and maintains an active hub in St. Louis. On March 7, TWA's Board of Directors approved American's proposal as the "best and highest offer" for the airline and recommended to the judge that he accept it.

This decision marks an important milestone, and we look forward to moving to the next phase in this process. The normal 10-day appeal period on the Court's decision begins today, and the next court hearing on this matter has been scheduled for Friday, April 6, 2001, in Judge Walsh's Court.
